DVR Product Upgrade Policy

General:

Pelco's representations as to product features and performance are limited to those made in the specification sheet and installation/operation manual in effect at the time the product was manufactured. Pelco does not represent or warrant that any upgrades to product hardware or software will be made available in the future. When possible, Pelco will offer product upgrades to purchasers of its products as follows:

Software Upgrades:

1. All upgrades for Pelco software shall be free to the customer for the duration of the warranty period. This offer does not apply to software that may be installed in a Pelco product that is licensed from another supplier. All other software, such as operating systems, drivers for accessory devices etc., shall be governed by the software manufacturer's upgrade policy, even when said upgrades are necessary to implement an upgraded version of Pelco software.
2. Whenever possible, software upgrades with detailed instructions shall be provided to customer via web-site download. Pelco will not be responsible for loss of data, losses due to down time, or damage to product as a result of a customer attempting to perform any upgrade.
3. Hardcopies on appropriate medium (CD/ZIP/Floppy) shall be sent to the customer at no charge upon request.
4. It shall be the customer's responsibility to procure necessary hardware to perform upgrades if required (necessary drives such as CD-ROM or ZIP).
5. Pelco cannot guarantee that all future software versions will be backward compatible with earlier hardware platforms.

Hardware Upgrades:

Pelco does not normally provide hardware upgrades other than for hard disk storage. Hard disk upgrades are available as follows:

1. Not all products are capable of being upgraded for additional hard drive space. For information on whether a particular model can be upgraded, consult the relevant installation/operation manual or the technical support department at Pelco.
2. If a hard disk upgrade is possible, it is available through Pelco at established prices and is subject to the usual 24-hour turn-around time for service.

When a larger hard drive is being substituted for a smaller one, the smaller drive will be returned to the customer along with the upgraded unit.

While Pelco will perform all upgrades with the utmost consideration and care, Pelco cannot guarantee that any of the data and/or Video stored on the existing hard drives will not be lost or damaged. Pelco is also not responsible for damage or loss of data.

VCR Repair Policy
