The best music light on the market, the cordless, rechargeable ConcertLight II provides bright, even light that illuminates all the music – even on oversize scores.

This is the light for those that want and need ample, balanced illumination and the convenience of battery operation.

Includes rechargeable battery pack, built-in charger. Can also be used as plug-in light with (included) AC adapter. Versatile spring clip attachment works on solid back and folding stands. Includes padded carry case.

Use ConcertLight on a grand with the Piano Clip $15

ConcertLight II - Features full-spectrum, 30,000-hour lamp; built-in charger with integrated spring clip; AC adapter; rechargeable NiMH battery pack, carry case

With STD 3.5 hr battery pack: List $119
With Long Life 6.5 hr battery: List $149

Put more light on your music!

With ConcertLight or GigLight, musicians can play comfortably in poorly lit rehearsal or performance spaces. Practice in dimly lit rooms, perform outdoors, use one in the pit and avoid the tangle of power cords. No more straining to see the music.

Easy on the Eyes

ConcertLight and GigLight both feature a full-spectrum, daylight color temperature light source. This low glare, high contrast lighting makes the notes stand out, making it easier to read the music and reducing eye-strain.

The new GigLight packs a powerful, wide-beam light into a small package that easily clips on a solid or folding music stand.

Which light is right for you?

ConcertLight: Do you play frequently and usually need more light? Often struggle to see the music, miss notes, or experience eyestrain?

GigLight: You only need a light occasionally, but you want one that is bright yet small enough to carry around in a pocket or purse.

GigLight folds up compactly. Use it as a handy, battery-powered desk or task light.

GigLight is a smaller, less expensive alternative to the ConcertLight, but much brighter than booklight type clip-ons.

GigLight features a super-bright lifetime power LED light source. Includes four AA batteries and soft case.

GigLight – List $39; with AC Adapter, $49
