Liberty IMS empowers companies to manage information their own way

When Liberty Information Management Solutions (Liberty IMS) was founded in 1987, most companies' information assets were paper-based, unstructured and limited. Today, there are no limits — except those imposed by regulations. Companies control their information automatically. They create their own best-of-breed rules, confident in their data, their documents, their software. Make no mistake, successful companies manage mission-critical information within seconds — without second-guessing their decisions.

- LibertyNET does not require an IT staff the size of India.
- LibertyNET is drag-and-drop easy, yet powerful enough for Boeing.
- LibertyNET helps reduce costs — plain and simple.

*LibertyNET was nominated for a
Smithsonian Award for technical innovation.*

Liberty IMS provides software that makes business sense. We eschew fads. Over the years, we've heard industry pundits refer to what we do as "Document Management," "Knowledge Management" or today's buzzword: "Electronic Content Management." To us, it's always been the same: "Information Management."

To run a business, you need sales information, operational information, expense information, among other things. Ultimately, everything you value involves information. That's where we come in. Once you determine your information requirements, LibertyNET can capture, manage and share that information the way you see fit. The results can be dramatic. BAX Global, a $2 billion transportation and supply chain management company, saves 90 percent of its labor costs related to information management by using LibertyNET.

Information is money. According to IDC, Fortune 500 companies waste $5 billion a year from the duplication of information that already exists. To us, that's just unacceptable.

Take SYSCO Corporation, one of the nation's largest food distribution companies. SYSCO uses LibertyNET to manage its invoices. Just one SYSCO site produces up to 15,000 pages of invoices per day. Using customized indexing and database validation, SYSCO performs tasks within seconds that previously took hours. There is no duplication. No lost information. Just money-saving efficiency.

When a company becomes our customer, they do not just "purchase software." They become our solution partner — a partnership based on the shared respect for creating value. The best way to create value is to make something unique. LibertyNET is completely customizable. Every company personalizes it, tweaks it and makes it hum. Using the skills of a network administrator, our customers can modify their solution on the fly as business needs change.

This capability cannot be overstated because at the end of the day, your information is important, your business dynamic, your decisions solid.
