Roca Management Education and Training, Inc.

History of Roca Management Education and Training, Inc. (RMETI)

RMETI's roots began as Education Tomorrow, a small sole proprietorship founded in 1998, with the specific goal of assisting higher education, secondary education, military and the federal government with training and education requirements. Education Tomorrow developed expertise in Web-based distance learning education. Through partnerships, new leadership, and modest growth, Education Tomorrow evolved to become RMETI, a culturally diverse Hispanic, Veteran Owned small business; HUB Zone certified headquartered in Culpeper, Virginia.

RMETI provides a variety of education, training, life skills, and manpower support services to a worldwide population.

RMETI was founded with the specific goal of assisting corporations, government agencies, and academic entities with their unique training, education, and manpower/employee development needs.

RMETI's focus is to ensure that it provides socially responsible programs and services framed within the principles and guidelines that enhance the growth, success, and visibility of a multi-cultural workforce.
